

RUEDAS
CUADRADAS.COM

China By Bicycle

Horgos, Xinjiang to Beijing (5020 kms, 20 days, in 2008)
the last of the 9 countries on my way from Madrid to Beijing for the Olympic Games

On the border a policeman asked me where I was going, I told him I was going to Beijing. He looked at me and said "Impossible, it's over 5000km to the Capital, you won't make it." But I did. 在边境的时候一位警察问我去哪里，我说去北京。他看了看我，然后说“不可能，到北京还有5000多公里呢，你肯定到不了。”但是我到了。

Beijing (600 kms / 7 days, in 2010) a short trip to test new gears

Beijing to Xining, Qinghai (3800 kms / 37 days, in 2011), from my home in Beijing to Xian, Chengdu, Dege (border with Tibet), and crossing remote areas of the Tibetan Plateau and finished in Xining.

Xining to Urumqi (2400 kms / 20 days, in 2013)

Taklamakan Desert highway

lowest temperature -25 degrees, Tianshan Pass

Beijing to Erenhot (Mongolian border) 650 kms 7days in 2014

(part of Mongolian Loop, 1650 kms / 26 days)

Beijing to Shanghai, 1200 kilometers in 9 days, in 2015

China Northern loop (2188 kms / 19 days, in 2017)

I try to go everywhere in the city by bike, whether exploring its most modern or traditional parts.

And also dreaming of the next cycling travel that I will take.

我出行尽量选择骑车，穿梭城市的摩登与古老之间。同时也在梦想着我下一次的骑车旅行。0

PR & Media coordinator for the Pro-Cycling team Burgos BH in Asian tours (2013 & 2014)
The team participated in Tour of Qinghai, Tour of Hainan, Tour of China, Tour of Taihu and the Nanjing Challenge

...Netherlands, Scotland, Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Georgia, Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, Japan, Vietnam, South Korea, Mongolia... where will be next?

Thank You China

david@ruedascuadradas.com
www.ruedascuadradas.com

RUEDAS
CUADRADAS.com